Patriotism is the best form of Nationalism

Dear Enlightened Readers,

This week has a mixed bag:

- US and China sign a historic climate deal;
- China and Japan talk after 2 years;
- US doubles its forces in Afghanistan;
- Boko Haram killed 48 girls in a school in Nigeria;
- Taliban killed 11 Afghan cops;
- Pakistan admits ISIS presence inside Pakistan;
- ISIS plans own currency;
- Baghdadi, the Chief of the ISIS Caliphate reportedly killed / injured in air strike; ISIS releases video of Baghdadi in denial;
- Khalistan Liberation Force (KLF) chief arrested;
- The first man-made object (?) lands in a comet, a cosmic first;
- The master - mind of the Burdwan blast arrested;
- Gujarat government first to make voting compulsory in local municipal elections. Not liked by many;
- November 14-the Chacha Nehru day or Children's Day Homage to him on his 125th birth anniversary;
- Indian cricketer Rohit Sharma creates individual world record in making 264 in ODIs on November 13 against Sri Lanka at Eden, Kolkata.

Thanking you & with regards,

Yours sincerely,

D.C. Nath

The Yezidis and their plight:

They are Aryan people originally from Airyna Vaeja, the mystical Homeland of Aryans which is in present day India. The word Aryan is not related to race but refers to 'The righteous'. The Yezidi calendar is 6764 years old and is the oldest in the Middle East. About 5000 years ago Yezidis migrated to Afghanistan, Iran, Iraq and Middle East. At that time they were called Children of Melek Taus. Melek is an ancient Semite God of Babel and Canaanite. Melek or Malik can be found in Sanskrit word Malaiklavon, another name for Murugan / Skanda, a God found in South India.

The Avesta language was named after the Avesta text of Zoroastrians. The language and style of Old Avesta and Rig Veda are so close that they are commonly thought to be different versions of the same language of Sanskrit. The religion of Yezidis share much in common with Vedic Hindus. Yezidi have a caste system like Hindus. However no caste based discrimination has ever been reported among the Yezidis. Yezidis believe in reincarnation.

The Peacock finds a special place in their religion. It is worshiped as Melek taus / Murugan / Skanda / Kartikeya. Lord Rama is also one of the Yezidi gods. Exactly like the Hindus the Yezidis use Tilak and place the mark upon their foreheads. Another clue in Yezidi to the location of their homeland lies in mythology of their Holy land called Perani which is derived from word Pazhani, a Temple in Dindigul district of Tamil Nadu. The deity there is Murugan or Kartikeya.

The present crisis represents the 74th attempt at genocide against this ancient people. It began with an attack on Shingal. This is where most of the Yezidi population reside. The latest attack began in May this year when ISIL crossed into Iraq from Syria. The Yezidi tribal leaders were able to fight ISIL in the plains. In the mountains the Yezidis were able to hold up until August when ISIL broke through the mountains killing thousands.

There is a prophecy, which the Yezidis believe, that says all Aryan tribes will be united in spiritual harmony as one people. No other time in history, but in the past 1500 years have we seen this happen? The ongoing genocide of the Yezidis and the support of the Hindu Indians for the Yezidis, bring one of the last of the Aryans from Iraq, spiritually and culturally into the Hindu fold. These are our cultural allies. Here in a region plagued by religious exclusivity and religious homogeneity have survived an ancient people steeped in the worship of the Peacock King. These are a people who feel closer bonds to India than with the majority cultures surrounding them in the Middle East.
